WELCOME

(By Richard Vining, President)

As president of the graduating class of 1946, I welcome you to our class night exercises.

We, the members of the Class of '46, have for the past four years worked diligently to attain this first step in our commencement exercises. We have been in high school during three years of war. Though some of our members have gone to the army and navy and though many of the others have served on the home front, we have carried on our education. Now that peace is here, our goal in sight, and our eyes focused on the future, we stand ready to meet whatever comes our way, thanks to the help that was given to us by you, our teachers, parents, and friends. We are going out to fulfill our destiny with a determined spirit and a will to win.

Tonight, however, we have met to recall the happy hours at Enfield High.

Once again, on behalf of the graduating class of nineteen forty-six, a sincere welcome to you.

CLASS HISTORY

(By Dorothy Bridge)

Tonight, as we look back upon these past four years at Enfield, many events flash before our minds. When we entered the doors of this school as meek, mild freshmen, this Class Night seemed very far away. Now it is here, and we pause tonight to catch hold of some memories we never want to lose.

Our first day as freshmen, back in the haze of 1942, is just one such memory. Don't let anyone fool you. We were scared to death! We wandered around through strange rooms and succeeded in getting misplaced here and there. With us came our principal, Mr. J. Frank Hassett who replaced Mr. Langford. Then came the Senior-Freshman reception. That night we gazed in awe upon the seniors, and the year 1946 seemed very far away. We went to Dancing Class every week during the fall. We soon dared to try our social wings at the proms. We took all these events in our stride and when we budded into sophomores, we felt dignity already descending upon us. At least WE thought so!

Our sophomore year started off with a bang! In October, two of our classmates, Richard Vining and Lincoln Fuge, participated in the Columbia School of the Air. In November, several of our sophomores, namely, Virginia Green, Jean Humphries, Bernice Larrabee, and Fred Hanks were soloists in the Minstrel, "South Land Revue." Class elections were held in December. President, James Richards; Vice-President, Ray Tanguay; secretary, Catherine Alaimo, and Treasurer, Josephine Bruno became our capable leaders. We remember vividly the annual school play, and were greatly honored to have our own Lincoln Fuge play the lead in "What A Life." Another star was added to our crown when Miss Josephine Bruno won a silver medal in the State-Latin Contest. At the end of June, a new "Static" staff was chosen with Elinor MacGovern as Editor-in-Chief, and Joan Klaus as Assistant Editor. As we looked back upon our days as sophomores, we felt proud of our achievements as a class. And we were very eager to assume the important role of Juniors.

Through the year of 1945 many memorable events occurred. There was much enthusiasm about the election of the junior class officers. Each candidate presented his views at assembly and the following were elected by the Junior Class to represent them. President, Richard Vining; Vice-President, Fred Hanks; Secretary, Wanda Mastalisz and Treasurer, Marie Binnenkade. An assembly was held in November, during the time of the presidential election. Robert Cummings, Frank Jakubiec, James Jackson, Richard Vining, and Charles Alaimo participated. This assembly, composed of all Juniors, was acclaimed by all as a high light of the year. The following Juniors took part in Radio Broadcasts over WDRC: Marie Binnenkade, Hildegard Thoben, Richard Vining, Lincoln Fuge, Robert Cummings, and James Jackson. Miss Marie Binnenkade and Richard Shields, both juniors had the leading roles in the annual school play entitled "Junior Miss." This play became one of the school's biggest successes of the year. The American International College Model Congress was attended by the following juniors: Frank Jakubiec, Lincoln Fuge, Robert Cummings, Richard Vining, and James Jackson. They all participated in the program. Our outstanding event, which we remember tonight, was the sponsoring of the Junior Prom. The theme of this prom, which was enjoyed by all, was "Southern Fantasy." Richard Vining and Marie Binnenkade were host and hostess for the Prom. In the second annual inter-class track meet that was held in 1945, the junior class was placed second, trailing the seniors by a few points. A very proud moment came in March when Ramona Figurato, who had won first place in the American Legion Area Contest, placed third in the Hartford County Oratorical Contest. Ramona was chosen to represent Enfield at Laurel State Camp held during the summer. She came back to us with the honored title of "best all-around girl." Frank Jakubiec was chosen to represent Enfield at Boys' Camp. In April, "Rose of the Danube," the school operetta, was presented under the supervision of Miss Antrinetto Roach with Roland Gagne in the leading role. Frank Gracewski was chosen from forty-two other boys to be awarded the Rural Youth Award. Governor Baldwin presented the award and all of us were thrilled that Frank had won it. With the Victory in Europe coming on May 8, our junior year drew to a close. Every one of us felt that it had been a grand and successful year.

In the fall of 1945, as peace once again surrounded the earth, we entered the portals of Enfield to take our place as seniors. At last the cloak of dignity had descended. We hoped we would wear it well. Our Senior-Freshman Reception remains clearly in our minds tonight. It turned out to be a gala affair. Yes, the freshmen eyed us with awe and we were in our glory. In October, we held Class Elections and once again Richard Vining assumed the role of President with Bernard Santenella, Vice-President; Wanda Mastalisz, Secretary; and Herbert Davidson, Treasurer. In November came the Hi-Y Minstrel, "Happy Landing" with our own Richard Vining as Interlocuter. Our principal, Mr. Hassett, left us during the winter to take up his new duties as Superintendent of Schools in Woburn, Massachusetts. We welcomed as our new principal, Mr. Harry E. Tatoian. In December, our school Debaters under the direction of Mr. J. Hesley Lyons, trimmed the Rotarian debaters on the question concerning military training. Those taking part were James Jackson and Richard Vining. The American Legion Oratorical Contest took place this year with Dorothy Bridge winning the area, county and state contests; thus having the honor of being sent to the regional contest in New Jersey, competing with New York and New Jersey Contestants. In April, the school play entitled "Spring Green" was presented. Among the seniors who participated in the production were Marie Binnenkade, Richard Vining, Helen Javorski, Lincoln Fuge, James Jackson, Richard Shields, Charles Alaimo, and Thomas Mailloux. Our happiest and most recent memory is our class trip. We were able to travel to Washington, D. C., where we spent many exciting hours. We profited greatly by this trip not only as a vacation highlight but also as an historical pleasure. Our country means so much more to us now.

Tonight, as we close this history, we remember those who are not with us on this Class Night. Among those missing are "Frosty" Ferguson, the popular janitor, who was forced to leave last year because of illness; and Ray Tanguay, who has joined the service. Faculty members, who have returned after service in the armed

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1946

PART I

(By Lorraine Tanguay)

Ten years ago, we of the class prophecy committee had planned to hold a reunion at the Midnight Spa. After an absence of nearly nine years, I returned home to keep this appointment. To my utter amazement, I discovered that I didn't know my way around my own home town. I had expected changes to take place, but not such overwhelming changes, which in ten short years, had made our little town of Enfield one of the leading metropolises of the world. This, of course, was due to the fact that I had underestimated the enterprising qualities of one, Frank Jakubiec, whose foresight and determination wrought these miracles. I had predicted that he would hold some judicial position in the future, but I had no idea that he would ever become our "Little Flower" of Enfield.

Getting my bearings at good, old Enfield High, I headed northwest to the locality in which I believed was the Midnight Spa. I had to cross through Manischalchi Park, which extended from Enfield High down to Main Street. As I walked along, I stopped to read a plaque which verified my suspicions that the park was named in honor of the illustrious composer, Vincenzo Manischalchi, a former classmate, whom I had prophesized would be the owner of the chain grocery stores of Manischalchi & Sons. I slowed down a bit to appreciate the beauties of this park. What was once the mill pond was now a winding brook flanked on either side by sunken gardens. It was like a horticulturist's dream, and upon further investigation, I learned that the horticulturist was none other than Mabel Norman, the former supervisor of the Mossing Department at Enfield Gardens.

Leaving the park behind, I stood in awe as I viewed the beautiful edifice which supplanted the Midnight Spa and all the other little stores in the vicinity. The ground floor was used as a hotel, in the lobby of which I expected to meet the prophecy committee. As I entered, I had anticipated being greeted with shrieks of laughter and much back-slapping, but to my surprise I was met with warm dignity and poise.

As we stepped into the elevator, I noticed that it was operated by Jimmy Ragno, whom I had said would come up in the world.

forces are Mr. Russell, Mr. Ricci, Mr. Fowler, and Mr. Angelica. Yes, as you can surely see, we have had four never-to-be-forgotten years at Enfield High School. With this Class History, we lock many memories in our hearts, and the key to them will always be near by.

We stepped out at the 86th floor where a dainty little hostess showed us to the dining room. She looked very familiar and upon inquiry, I learned she was Leona Gourinski.

Anxious to discover how many of our class prophesies had materialized, we got right down to business and began to discuss the information which each of us had accumulated.

While in the lobby, Anna Marrochini, the hotel receptionist, told me that many of our old classmates are working here; Johnny Morrison is operating a helicopter service on the roof and June Lesniak is managing a beauty salon on the 18th floor. June's manicurist, Nellie Nabonzy, and her hair stylist, Claire Cormier are the only two of their kind in the world.

Eileen Babonas and Linda Leginza, the owners of an exclusive interior decorating shoppe on the second floor, have just returned from Vienna where they designed the dancing studio of Al McBride.

Anna related that there is a broadcasting station in the east wing of the building, where many of our classmates can be seen. The electrician there is Joe Skarzinski; Mae MacWilliams, our Luella Parsons of today, is now giving the nation its news about the great stars, including Doris McGarrett, who has just finished the picture, "Gone With the Last Winter's Snow."

To advertise her lonely heart's bureau, Roz Furey is sponsoring Joe Annis and his accordion in a 30-minute program.

At 7:15 every weekday morning you can join the battle of the bulge by exercising to the rhythm of Connie Bosco's 1-2-3-4—1-2-3-4. I hear that she is also teaching physical education in the Enfield schools to all those who manage to survive her previous lessons.

Say, remember Kenny Bohannah, whom we predicted would be a bookkeeper? Well, he's working in Liggett's Corner Drug Store keeping a million funny books in their specified places.

That famous fashion designer, Rose Wojnar, is now planning Vogue's special design patterns.

Did you know that Ginny Green has been elected the first woman dog catcher of Scitico? On many a dark, gloomy night she can be seen walking the lonely street of Scitico singing, "Oh Where, Oh Where Has My Little Dog Gone?"

Margy Bushey and Bunky Larabee are now singing stars with Joe Garder and his Elastic Band. Bob Rossi, the leading trumpet player of the band, has just won a national award given by the Tall Tales Association for telling a yarn in which he referred to his car "Bessie" as having surpassed the speed of 15 miles per hour. After winning this award, he made a small fortune on the sale of his car to the Museum of Natural History.

Derb Halpin, the famous motorcyclist known as "Dare Devil Derb," is now featured in the obstacle races at Madison Square Garden. He certainly has come a long way since he met his first obstacle—our high school's gymnasium door.

HONOR STUDENTS

FOOTBALL TEAM

While strolling down Main Street recently, I stopped at the corner to listen to the harmony of the Salvation Army Band. I suppose you all remember those two kings of swing, "irresistible" Ray Tanguay and "honest" Herb Davidson, whose musical abilities had been well known in high school. After listening awhile to this band, I discovered that the omm-pa-pa of the tuba was made by Herb, and situated at the end of a clarinet was Ray. These two generous musicians had devoted all their musical abilities to charity.

Say, Chick, What have you to report about your former classmates?

PART II

(By Charles Alaimo)

As I stepped from the train that brought me to Enfield, I hardly recognized the town because it had grown so in the last ten years. The first building that attracted my attention was The Enfield Empire Building which would catch anyone's attention as it is the tallest structure in the world, with its 1,773 stories. This was the first place I visited. When the door of the elevator opened I saw Josephine Casiello seated on a velvet, cushioned throne. Noticing my astonishment, Jo explained that she was a member of the U. E. O., United Elevators Operators. She added, "We owe it all to our president, Delores Conley, without whose enterprise we would still be forced to use wooden stools."

Upon the 750th floor I went to the office of Dentist Nathalie Nuccio. While waiting for Nathalie, I picked up a magazine, "The Enfielder," of which Irene Baronian is editor and Helen Javorski is social editor. On the cover was a pin-up pose of Jean Cygan, famous New York model. Thumbing through the pages I saw a picture of Wanda Mastalisz being crowned "Miss America of 1956." In the sports section was a column written about Tommy Mailloux who has been appointed head coach of Notre Dame. Theresa Sredizinski, receptionist, led me into the main office and Nathalie then told me that Theresa sings Latin songs to calm the patients. After leaving the office I came to a door which read, "Barbara Noll, Detective." Upon entering I learned that Bobby is the world's greatest woman detective.

When I asked her to what she attributes her success, she promptly replied, "I guess I just have an instinct about men." To date she has captured 1,485 men and one woman criminal.

On the next floor I visited Teddy Soltys, who was referred to as Boss Soltys by his secretary, Theresa Annis. His political machine is the biggest and best in the history of Enfield. While smoking a cigar, Teddy informed me that Dorothy Bridge, famous novelist, had just won the Pulitzer Prize for her latest best seller, "A Bridge Is Built in Hazardville." Claire Kingsbury's portrait of the year, "Scitico," will be placed in the State Capitol.

Teddy asked his assistant, Jackie Leether to bring me on a tour of the city. While driving to the Supreme Court we turned on the radio and heard Lorraine Gagne's program. After arriving at the court house, Donald O'Brien, the clerk, announced in his cool, clear voice, "The Honorable Bernard Thomas Santanella, Jr., Presiding Judge." After Jack pointed out the District Attorney, the terror of criminals, Betty McCullough and the Defense Attorney, Marian M. Miller, we spent an enjoyable afternoon listening to the attorneys arguing in their soft, sweet voices.

Our next stop was the Enfield General Hospital. There we witnessed an operation by the brilliant brain specialist, Catherine Alaimo, who was assisted by Doctors Margaret and Magdalena Kertenis. In this hospital tour we met laboratory technician Ida Porcello and Dietician Helen Zych.

For that evening Jack suggested the hit concert of the year, which was written and played by Rosalie Colca. After hearing this we went to the circus and strolled in during the lion-tamer's act. There in a cage were twenty ferocious lions backing away from the fearless lion-tamer, Mary Chapell.

While at the circus I met Sam Russotto, well-known Wall Street broker, and Josephine Bruno the first congresswoman from Enfield.

PART III

(By Ramona Figurato)

Not only has our town changed, but the very Enfieldites we graduated with have also. For instance, I never dreamed that the seemingly shy Frank Severino would some day become musically inclined; but now he's in Hollywood giving Frank Sinatra plenty of stiff competition. He had been an undertaker with Frank Sarno before Herby Leach, the talent scout for M-G-M discovered him. And speaking of Hollywood, our former classmate, who's known as Hildagarbo Thoben, has just won the academy award for her excellent performance opposite Boris Karloff in "I Walked With a Zombie." I understand Hildagarbo is working on her autobiography which she has cunningly named "Silence Is Golden." Meanwhile Eva Basile is doing a fine job of doubling for Cass Daley.

While in New York recently to confer with the publishers of my newest novel, "Moni Is the Root of All Evil," I was invited to a dinner party given by Countess Evelyn Zawistowski Smith, the renowned Scititocian founder of the Zawistowski Institute for the better treatment of male animals. Upon arriving I discovered that many of the guests were among my former high school associates. There was Mary Patti who had made a fortune in the "Patti-cake" makeup business, and the Cancemi Twins who had also prospered in the cosmetic profession. Among the other socialites were Irene Noratovich, talented composer-pianist, and Lorraine Lyons, commentator on the "Sense of Rumor" program.

The place was literally swimming with foreign diplomats, and I paid particular notice to two with decidedly Russian accents. These turned out to be James J. Jacksonkovick, Jr., and Richard Viningski who had been defeated on the Republican ticket in the U. S. as congressmen. They were now planning to run on the Republican ticket in Russia against Joe Stalin.

My astonishment with the Russian diplomats was short-lived, however, for something over my head prompted me to look up. There in majestic form swaying to and fro on the chandelier was Claire Croteau who was in the pursuit of a rare specimen moth for her world famous bug collection. Claire had been in the house wrecking business with Chris Carenza before she turned to this profession. Recently Eileen Szydlowski of the Enfield Bugs Museum offered her $10,000 for a special type of mosquito.

Before more time had lapsed, Marilyn "Scoop" Anderson of the "New York Moon" called me up to inform me that Bob Pare had just won the heavyweight title from Billy Conn. She told me also that Billy Edgar was now the star pitcher for the Rhode Island Reds.

After conversing with Scoop, I returned to the party and to Jack Gorman, the Broadway producer, who explained to me all the tricks of show business. He had been working on a new play "Butcher Beast" in which he will star "Candy-boy" Fuge.

In the middle of the evening, Jimmy Richards arrived. Farmer Richards won the award for the farmer most likely to succeed after he concocted the odorless, tasteless, colorless chewing tobacco. When I asked him where he got his purple and green plaid suit, he said it was custom made by Sam Trapanesse, the famous 5th Street Tailor. Since time was steadily passing, I bade the party farewell.

Upon arriving at Enfield last night, I went up to dine at Irene Piotrowski's "Unholy Five Club," situated at the former site of the Enfield Inn. After relating that Sissy Tanguay had given up her job as life-guard at the Memorial Park Wading Pool, she added that Sis was now in the radio-magazine business. Ever since the Lone Ranger retired in 1950, Sissy has taken over his place as "Wender Woman of the Airwaves." Irene, otherwise known as the Unholy Fifth, went on to say that Bob Cummings had become sports editor of the "Sports Weekly" magazine, and that Bernice Lehman had been chosen the first woman fire chief of Enfield.

After many of Enfield High's faculty were promoted to Scitico Junior College, some of our former classmates came to fill in. Head of the Commercial Law Department is Statia Wenc; the new book-keeping instructor is Josephine Korona.

It's evident by observing what our former classmates have been doing that times have changed and people have changed with them.

PART IV

(By Robert Cummings)

Yes, times have changed, for I noticed that Charles Alaimo is a candidate for governor of Connecticut on a radical-socialist ticket. According to his campaign manager, Dick Shields, it's just a matter of counting the votes, which of course, will be supervised by the state voting commissioners, Paul Bellinger and Malcolm Wood.

However, his election is strongly opposed by such famous people as Ramona Figurato and Charles Johnson. Miss Figurato insists in her daily column, that it is time for a woman governor and that Elinor MacGovern, a prominent woman in public affairs, should be elected. An influential and independent farmer, Mr. Johnson is another of Alaimo's foremost opposers.

Surprising news came from the sports world when Frank Grajewski and John Pastermelo, the most consistent double play combination in organized baseball announced their resignation in order to create a woman's baseball league. They also announced that they will employ such women talent scouts as Lorraine Bailargeon and Sadie Chmielewski. These scouts have already signed up numerous stars, including Barbara Thompson, southpaw pitcher, Marlan Crafts, crack infielder, and Ruth Lynch, home-run queen.

Former All-American end, Leo Porcello is now coaching at Mildew University, having already been mentioned for the coach of the year award by virtue of his outstanding performance at the college.

Pauline Turgeon and Dorothy Oates, gossip editors of the Sunshine Press, are being sued by Marie Binnenkade, well-known banker. Miss Binnenkade, according to her confidential secretary, Mary Romano, was perturbed when she was referred to as having a reddish tint in her hair.

In the world of excitement, Donald Hartley has announced that he has secured financial backing for his crash carnival from Nellie Kamay who has prospered in the unique profession of quieting famous people's nerves. This money will enable Mr. Hartley to purchase the services of Anthony Dedonis and Roland Gagne, well-known midget auto racers.

William Mahon, reserved night club owner, has just announced the opening of a new club which will be under the management of Helen Novak and Eleanor Polek. They have just returned the Diamond Horse Shoe to Billy Rose, intrusted to them until they could put it back on a paying basis. This they did in a remarkably short time, merely by adding to the program, Helen O'Brien and Jean Humphries, well-known ballad-singers. Their gowns are designed by the exclusive Park Avenue dress creators, Janet Sanger and Madelyn Hayden.

CLASS PRESENTATIONS

(By Wanda Mastalisz, Richard Shields, Jean Humphries, Frank Gracewski)

- Roselyn Furey.....Dark Glasses
 Cookie's eyes never behave,
 They flirt with boys in classes.
 There are some boys that must be saved,
 So we give her this pair of glasses.
- Nellie Kamay.....Wooden Shoes
 These wooden shoes will click and sound,
 To tell us when you are around,
 For seldom have we ever heard,
 You say a single little word.
- Mae MacWilliams....Good Report Card
 Mae works very hard;
 She does her best each day;
 And this good report card
 Will help her on her way.
- John Leether.....Phone Book
 Jack owns a car
 That is not so small.
 If you ever want a ride,
 You need only call.
- Samuel Trapanese.....Sheet of Music
 An instrument he does play,
 His tones are full and sweet.
 This sheet of music is very gay
 It will make his rhythm neat.
- Josephine Bruno.....Yeast Cake
 A cake of yeast for little Josie,
 Because of her small size.
 We hope that when it takes effect
 It will make her rise.
- Elizabeth McCullough.....Flour
 Betty is always blushing
 Morning, noon and night,
 But this bag of flour
 Will help to keep her white.
- Sadie Chmielewski.....Fashion Book
 Now, some may go to Paris
 When they want to know the style,
 But you need only watch Sadie
 'Cause she has it all the while.
- Bernice Larabee.....Bird Seed
 You should hear our Bernice sing
 Her voice is very sweet;
 But after she takes this bird seed
 She'll probably go "Tweet, tweet."
- James Richards.....Chicken Feed
 A great farmer you will be,
 That we all know.
 Here's a little chicken feed,
 To make the chicks grow.
- Hildegard Thoben.....Roller Skates
 Hilda likes to skate,
 She isn't one bit shy.
 She'll be skating champion,
 In the future, bye and bye.
- Rose Wojnar.....Pattern
 Rose takes Home Ec. each day,
 She sews and sews and sews;
 A pattern will be of help
 In making pretty clothes.
- Raymond Tanquay.....Sailor Hat
 Ray is in the Navy,
 Sailing the ocean deep;
 As token of our esteem
 We hope this hat he'll keep.
- Marie Binnenkade.....Golden Star
 How can we do you justice?
 You surely are a star!
 Actress, and cheerful person,
 Your gifts will take you far!
- Virginia Green.....Hair Rinse
 Virginia has lovely red hair,
 Which she arranges with care;
 This hair rinse will be sure
 Its radiance to secure.

Since we were so absorbed in the discussion of our former classmates, we had not realized that what had been late afternoon was now early morning. When the time was brought to our attention, we reluctantly disbanded, each returning to our own station in life. With the reunion over and our purpose completed, we agreed that ten years ago we made a comparatively accurate surmial of what the future held for our classmates.

Claire Croteau.....Rattle
 Claire is one of those silent girls
 Who seldom makes a sound.
 So shake this rattle with all your might,
 And we'll know when you're around.

Helen O'Brien.....Mirror
 Petite, and cute, and charming—
 We all do like her well;
 A very, pleasing story
 This mirror now will tell.

Wanda Mastalisz.....Tooth Paste
 A smile of flashing brightness,
 And lovely eyes of blue,
 A pink and white complexion,
 And charming manners, too.

Robert Cummings.....Book of Speech
 You are fine when you debate,
 Really first rate;
 To you we give a book of speech,
 Your goal the sooner to reach.

Roland Gagne.....Lemon Juice
 Now, Roland, you must know
 That you look very spruce,
 But your hair would simply glow,
 If you used this lemon juice.

Alexander McBride.....Dancing Doll
 Al, you're some dancer
 On the stage and in the ballroom,
 too.
 We present you with this doll,
 Though it can't compete with you.

Lorraine Gagne Book on Hair Styles
 How do you keep your hair so nice?
 It's never out of place!
 A book of hair styles
 Is surely in good taste.

Leona Gourinski.....Bus Pass
 Leona lives a long way off
 And has to journey far.
 This bus pass should be useful
 If she can't afford a car.

Richard Vining.....Letter E
 This letter "E" is presented here,
 For your good work throughout the
 year;
 In everything you take your part
 And place yourself in each one's heart.

Norman Young.....Funny Paper
 You always seem so serious,
 It really is a crime.
 If you read this funny paper,
 You'll laugh till the end of time.

Lincoln Fuge.....Handkerchief
 Oh my, oh my, here is a hanky,
 For his clothes are very swanky.
 In his class he is the best
 For they say he is best dressed.

Jenny and Lillian Cancemi Identification Tags
 The Cancemi twins are much alike,
 They can't be told apart;
 To them we give a tag apiece,
 So they won't break our hearts.

Eileen Babonis.....Frying Pan
 In all of your studies you did quite well
 But we hear in cooking you did excel;
 When you get married and your husband gets cross,
 Pick up this frying pan and say,
 "I'm boss."

Irene Piotrowski.....Chewing Gum
 At chewing gum you've often been caught
 And many a package you've bought,
 So here's another that will serve
 To please your palate and calm your nerves.

Bernice Lehmann.....Noise Maker
 Silence is golden,
 I do not doubt;
 But just for a minute,
 Will you try this out?

Jack Pastomerlo.....Girl Doll
 Towards girls you act very shy,
 We don't know the reason why,
 So look at this doll from year to
 year,
 And your shyness will gradually disappear.

Irene Baronian.....Lipstick
 Keep this lipstick close at hand
 For it makes your lips look grand;
 When you see your own reflection
 We hope it brings fond recollection.

Samuel Russotto.....Tie
 Sam is a ladies' man
 As you can easily see.
 He dresses up so spic and span
 This tie we hope will pleasing be.

Marian Miller.....Thermometer
 Marian plans to be a nurse,
 She will regret this never;
 For she's sweet, and capable
 Of carrying out this endeavor.

STATIC STAFF

E. H. S. CHEER LEADERS

- John Gorman.....Date Book
John, you are so very handsome,
With your eyes of blue.
This date book will remind you
Of girl friends, quite a few.
- Thomas Mallioux.....New Car
We can hear your car from a long way off.
And the noise it makes is not very soft.
So take this new one, don't be a chump.
And throw the old one in the dump.
- Pauline Turgeon.....Date Book
To you we give this date book
And hope that you will find,
Enough dates and boy friends
To fill each space and line.
- Donald O'Brien.....Freckle Cream
Donald has freckles galore,
He's got a thousand, if not more,
So put this cream upon your skin,
And they'll disappear like a sad
man's grin.
- Dorothy Bridge.....
This brown haired lass from Haz-
ardville way,
We're sure the school will miss;
"Debates won't be the same," we say,
"We're very sure of this."
- Frank Jacubiec
Book on "How to Win Friends and Influence People"
Frank is merry, Frank is gay,
With a happy disposition.
A loyal friend to have around,
A jollier boy cannot be found.
- Ida Porcello.....Ball of String
In her spare time Ida is a clerk
And from this work she'd never shirk.
If she'll tie her bundles with this string,
Her customers won't lose a thing.
- Mary Chappell.....Baby Bonnet
To the baby of the class
We present this bonnet,
And we hope the little lass
Will some day want to don it.
- Charles Johnson.....Can of Beans
We know this can of beans,
Charles will guarantee
Because we bought it
At the A&P.
- Dearborn Halpin.....Motor Cycle
A motor cycle to Derb we do declare
To take him through school doors with care.
He might take his girl for a ride
But who she is, we can't decide.
- Claire Kingsbury.....Paint Set
As an artist you are widely known
And your reputation has quickly grown;
Some day you will gladly exclaim,
That this paint set brought you fame.
- Frederick Hanks.....Drum
When a little boy insists on playing
And bothering his dear teacher,
He really should be given a toy—
This drum is what we feature.
- Joseph Skarzynski.....Check Book
In your business dealings,
Wherever you may be,
A check book comes in handy,
For you as well as me.
- Helen Zych.....Letter of Recommendation
Quiet is her nature,
A better worker none can be;
This letter is presented here,
That all may hear and see.
- Evelyn Zawistowski.....Shoes
There is a lass who loves to dance
From morn till set of sun.
To her we give these dancing shoes
And wish her loads of fun.
- Herbert Leach.....Cave Man's Club
Are you so very quiet,
Or is it just a bluff?
Here's a club to raise a riot;
Now try the cave man's stuff.
- Mary Romano.....Puppy
Seeing you're so small and short
To you we give this pet;
It will not make you grow at all
But will keep you company, I'll bet.
- Charles Alaimo.....Knife
His father has a grocery store,
And Chick works there, too;
Cutting meat is quite a job,
The work this knife will do.
- Malcolm Wood.....Pepper
Variety is the spice of life,
Wherever you may turn.
A little pepper now and then,
Will help you this to learn.

Presentations

- Mable Norman.....Cook Book
We have often heard of husbands
who have strayed
Because of the meals young brides
have made.
So we present a cook book with this suggestion,
Follow it, and keep the man of your selection.
- James Jackson.....Glasses
Jimmy put on glasses
When he acted in "Spring Green."
No doubt he'll need some later
For on reading he is keen.
- Barbara Noll.....Stencil
At the mimeograph machine
Barbara often has been seen;
To her we give a stencil
To take along with pad and pencil.
- Robert Pare.....Roller Skates
Robert seems to like to skate;
He always speaks about it.
Try these on and demonstrate,
And then we'll never doubt it.
- June Lesniak.....Wheaties
June's never in a hurry,
She always takes her time;
These wheaties will make her
scurry,
And fix up things just fine.
- Donald Hartley.....Stick Pin
Ambition in you is not lacking;
It just can't be found;
But with the application of this pin
We're sure that you will bound.
- John Morrison.....Tie
John, here is a little tie,
You see it's very bright,
But now you'll be so handsome,
Things will all turn out right.
- William Mahon.....Girl
Billy, why are you so bashful
When the girls think you're just right?
Here's a girl to start you off—
See if you can handle her all right.
- Madelyn Hayden.....Firecrackers
Madelyn is so quiet,
And is quite bashful, too;
We'll have to give her some fireworks,
To make a crash or two.
- Natalie Nuccio.....A Fish Line
Girls have gone a-fishing,
And have gotten a fellow, too;
Now we'll give Nattie a line,
To see what she can do.
- Barbara Thompson.....Horn
Bobby's got a boy friend,
Oh! he is awfully cute,
And every time he passes school
His horn begins to toot.
- William Edgar.....Comb
Billy's hair is so unruly,
He can't make it behave;
This comb we hope will surely
A lot of trouble save.
- Eva Basile.....Paints
Eva is quite an artist
So we give these paints to her,
And extend the best of wishes
For success in the future.
- Marjorie Bushey.....Hillbilly Song
Marjorie is a singer
To her we could listen long,
We hope she'll think of Enfield High
When she sings this hillbilly song.
- Katherine Alaimo.....Car Polish
When you apply this polish,
Your car will look the best,
In beauty and appearance,
Will far out-shine the rest.
- Bernard Santanella.....Joker
Bernard is a loyal friend
Full of fun and jokes,
If you don't take care when he's around
You'll be the victim of his hoax.
- Josephine Casiello.....Muffler
Josephine, you're so noisy
In everything you do;
Put on this muffler
We had it made for you.
- Linda Legienza.....Doughnut Cutter
Our Linda is such a good baker
We are sure she'll make a good wife,
We give her this so that later
She'll give hubby a comfortable life.
- Anna Marocchini.....Tin Pan
To Anna we give this tin pan,
Now, bang it as loud as you can.
You're always quiet, we think you are blue
But come now, and show us just what you can do.

- Irene Noratovich.....Book on "How to Vamp"
 To Irene we are giving
 This book on "How to Vamp"
 If she uses her eyes as she does in school.
 She ought to be a champ.
- Statia Wenc.....Adhesive Tape
 Statia, you're always giggling
 Giggling early, giggling late,
 Now when you feel it coming
 Just use this adhesive tape.
- Frank Sarno.....Mouse Trap
 Frank is quiet as a mouse
 And ne're lets out a snap,
 But we'll get a sound from him
 By means of this cruel mouse trap.
- Kenneth Bohannah.....Insurance Policy
 Kenny's very much in danger,
 He's living in a whirl;
 An insurance policy is just the thing,
 For a fellow with so many girls.
- Roselie Colca.....Ovaltine
 Like a ship needs an ocean
 Like a door needs a key,
 So Roselie needs her ovaltine
 If a typist she must be.
- Eleanor Polek.....Shoes
 Eleanor is another good dancer
 The class of "46" knows
 To her we give these dancing shoes
 To use wherever she goes.
- Constance Bosco.....Ever-ready-battery
 When someone is needed,
 Dependable and steady;
 Like this battery,
 You are ever-ready.
- Leo Porcello.....Pebecco
 Here's to Leo
 Who has a pleasing smile,
 May this help to keep it
 A long, long while.
- Josephine Korona.....Megaphone
 All the teachers have to say.
 "Miss Korona, we can't hear you."
 A megaphone wil pave the way,
 And we'll all begin to cheer you.
- Joseph Annis.....Popular Song
 On the accordion you're very clever,
 To you we'd listen long.
 But we can't see why you like a
 Polka
 Better than a popular song.
- Mary Patti.....Comb
 At making waves and curls
 Mary is so keen,
 Here's a comb to help her
 Doll up a Movie Queen.
- Ramona Figurato.....Book of Speech
 Ramona is not afraid
 To talk for worthy causes
 A book of speech to make the grade
 And she won't have to stop for pauses.
- Marilyn Anderson.....Music Sheet
 Marilyn enjoys playing the piano
 At any time of day;
 This music sheet will remind her
 Of EHS, when she plays.
- Dorothy Oates.....Mirror
 You're nice, and your charming,
 Your smile suits you well;
 We're sure there's nothing alarming,
 In what this mirror will tell.
- Helen Javorski.....Bar of Palmolive
 Helen has a school girl complexion
 Which all of us would like;
 We give her this bar of Palmolive
 To use both day and night.
- Nellie Nabonzy.....Hair Pins
 To Nellie we give hair pins
 To start her on the way.
 In her career as a hair dresser,
 She'll use them every day.
- Elinor MacGovern.....Check
 Elinor has such pretty teeth
 And she's always smiling.
 That is how she earned this check
 By tooth paste advertising.
- Jean Cygan.....Candy
 Jean is sweet
 And Jean is dandy,
 To her we give
 This bar of candy.
- Richard Shields.....Shaving Cream
 Dick has quite a beard
 As everyone can see,
 And when he gets this shaving
 cream
 He'll probably dance with glee.
- James Maniscalchi.....Medal
 His playing is the best we've heard,
 In rhythm and melody sweet;
 His notes on the piano are seldom
 blurred,
 This medal proves he's hard to beat.

TRACK TEAM

Frank Gracewski.....Chicken Feed

Frank is a farmer,
Many chickens he has raised.
We hope this new feed
Will help him in this trade.

Lorraine Lyons.....Ring

Lorraine is a cheerful maid
Who's known by all the boys;
With this ring she should find,
A friend with whose heart she toys.

Claire Cormier.....Glasses

You never can tell when your glasses will break,
And you'll need another pair;
Take these, please, for our sake,
And banish away your care.

Robert Rossi.....Trumpet

Our Bob plays the trumpet, we know,
He does this very well,
Here's hoping when we give you this
Your music we can tell.

Marlin Crafts.....Talking Machine

Marlin talks continually,
She talks both day and night.
To compete with this machine
She must try with all her might.

Lorraine Tanguay.....Basketball

Lorraine is a tom boy
She prefers this ball,
With which to practice
Early in the fall.

Delores Conley

Bottle of "Spring Green" Perfume
Delores helped the school play click.
Great success she did achieve
By the way she brought in properties
And called, "Oh, Genevieve!"

Eileen Szydlowski.....Working Papers

Some working papers for Eileen
To insure her future success,
And with these she ought to get a job
Quicker than all the rest.

Anthony Dedonis.....Milk Pail

When you're a wealthy farmer
To your neighbors tell a tale.
About the start we gave you
With a shiny milking pail.

Paul Bellinger.....Loud Speaker

Paul, we've diagnosed your case
And came to a conclusion;
If this loud speaker is put in place
It would save a lot of confusion.

Herbert Davidson.....Nut and Washer

Herbert, some day you'll be out of luck
Stuck on the road by the side of a truck.
We know it will help you get out of a rut
If you carry along this washer and nut.

Theresa Sredzinski.....Shopping Bag

It never pays to worry,
It never pays to fret,
We know Theresa will be satisfied
With whatever she gets.

Doris McGarrett.....Typing Paper

Take this paper, Doris,
At typing you're dandy.
Keep it ready on your desk
We're sure it'll come in handy.

Frank Severino.....Lever

To raise him out of bed
Frank needs a lever.
For his motto seems to be,
"Better late than never."

James Ragno.....Glue

In school he hates his work to do,
He'd rather sit and play;
This glue will keep his eyes on work
And take this fault away.

Teresa Annis.....Typewriter Ribbon

You should see her fingers
Go up and down the keys.
Then you wouldn't wonder
Why the teacher she does please.

Margaret and Magdelina Kertenis

To the Kertenis twins
We give these two shieks,
For they seem to like the boys,
Although Maggie is so meek,
Huddle these properly,
And take them home with you,
You'll find these shieks will not complain,
And always will be true.

Joseph Kaspersak.....A dancing lesson

Joe, you are a farmer
So must be good at prancing,
But here's a little help - -
A lesson on good dancing.

Helen Novak.....Rabbit's Foot

Helen's studying hard for college exams
They're difficult ones, we know;
But, with the help of this rabbit's foot
To college she'll surly go.

Jean Humphries.....Ticket to Success

A pleasing voice, a flashing smile,
A manner very sweet;
We know she'll get along,
For she is hard to beat.

Janet Sanger.....Stenographer's Notebook

We find that in stenography
Janet does very well,
And when she uses this notebook
We know she will excel.

Christine Carenza.....Vitamin Pills

A jolly girl our Christine is,
She's a healthy lass and has no ills,
But we think t'will do her no harm
To take a few vitamin pills.

Ruth Lynch.....Book on Charm

Ruth is lots of fun,
She dresses like a queen;
And we couldn't say about her
A single thing that's mean.

Lorraine Bailargeon.....Dutch Cleanser

So sparkling and bright is our Lorraine,
We've wondered what makes her
that way.
And just lately we've discovered her secret;
She's been using Dutch Cleanser
each day.

CLASS SONG OF 1916

TEMPO DI MARCIA

MUSIC CLASS '16

The musical score is written on ten staves, organized into two systems of five staves each. The top staff of each system contains a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The first system is marked 'TEMPO DI MARCIA'. The music consists of a melody line and a harmonic accompaniment. The melody is written in a simple, march-like style with eighth and quarter notes. The accompaniment features a steady bass line with chords. The second system continues the melody and accompaniment, ending with a double bar line. The key signature remains one flat throughout the piece.

The happy days of high school life,
Are drawing to a close;
Our hearts and thoughts are filled with joy,
As we review the years.

The future days that lie ahead,
Will lead to paths unknown;
We'll pace the miles and come what may,
For the world is ours today.

ADVICE TO UNDERGRADUATES

(By Lincoln Fuge)

Friends and Underclassmen:

To you, dear friends of the school, I ask a moment's indulgence while I bestow a final word of advice to our successors.

Underclassmen:

During the past three years we have striven diligently to set up and illustrate those standards of grace and poise that most of you, especially the Juniors, consistently refuse to acquire. While we Seniors have been lending an academic air to Enfield, you underclassmen have been disporting yourselves as children at an ice-cream party. Where we have been dignified and discreet, you have been frivolous and foolish. Thus it behooves me, on behalf of the class of 1946, to make one final attempt to salvage what little good may exist among you.

First I appeal to the Freshmen, the incoming Sophomores as of September, to put away your childish things, to forget the loutish manners of the Juniors and to kneel in reverence before the shrine of Room 26 whereby you may be inspired by the spirit of the Class of 1946. Recall that whenever you attended the assemblies that it was the Seniors who lent a majestic air, and a decorous atmosphere to the occasion. Recall, if you will, the éclat with which the Seniors participated in the school play, on the field of sport, and in the ballroom. Emulate these Seniors of 1946 so that you, the Seniors of 1949 can say three years hence, "We had the best of precursors."

Sophomores! Sagacious Sophomores as we once heard you called! But why? We have seen but little of the wisdom which you have professed. Could it be that you are following the footsteps of the Juniors? Sophomores, you have been in close relationship with the Class of 1946 for one year and in that time you should have learned not to race down the stairs to the lunch room, not to chew gum with great facial animation, and not to shoot wet spit balls at imaginary enemy planes, thus scoring direct hits on the backs of the Juniors' heads. No, these juvenile pranks are not for the sister class of 1946. We've noticed though, that there is a predilection among the boys in your class for athletics. This is fine and we can justify our pride in you for you have seen the wisdom of imitating your superiors.

Now for the "Jittery Juniors"! If prophecy is based upon history, O, what a sad fate awaits Enfield! To all the faults of the two lower classes you have added some quite original ones. The easiest way to identify a Junior is for one to sit out in the school yard, at a safe distance, and preferably behind a tank trap. If someone comes driving a heap of scrap iron, loaded with wildly yelling nondescript juveniles, then that one is a junior with a newly acquired license. Now then, don't you think it would be wise to drop all pretense of the showy, the gaudy, and the frivolous? In the few remaining moments of association with us observe the dignity of our class and then vow to say to yourselves each day during the summer vacation, "I will try to be like the Seniors of 1946."

Underclassmen, and Friends: Parting from Enfield High School and from our many friends in all the classes is very difficult for us who have spent so many hours of happiness here. Thus we have assumed a tone of highly critical brusqueness towards you underclassmen, not because we think less of you, but because we feel sincere regret in leaving you. We assure you, however, that we feel we could not have left Enfield High School in finer hands. We know that you will perpetuate the glory of Enfield.

RESPONSE FROM UNDERGRADUATES

(By Joseph Cimino, '47)

Ladies and Gentlemen and Nostalgic Seniors:

Advice, as the adage goes, is worthy of its giver. Thus I call upon you Seniors to note the words of your authorized spokesman. You would damn with faint praise the efforts and achievements of the underclassmen. You would have us to remember that we have but to follow your footsteps. This we have tried to do; but the speed of some of your members in getting down to the lunch room can come only after three years' practice.

Our Freshmen have been exhorted to pay homage to the shrine of Room 26, the erstwhile court of the Seniors. What inspiration can we hope to find there? We have lifted the desk covers and discovered that the desks were littered with empty cosmetic containers, an occasional comb, a few broken mirrors and sundry pin-up pictures of movie stars. Once we found a book!!

The Sophomores whom you described as sagacious will undoubtedly profit from your advice tonight. Heretofore, they have, as a sister class to you, imitated your ways in a positive sense. Tonight they have been given to understand that they were not to do as you did. For this enlightenment, I am sure, they are grateful.

Speaking for my own class, the Junior, or the "Jittery Juniors" as you called them, may I say that we have looked forward to this night for three years so that we can tell you the achievements of the members of our class. We shall not name the individual stalwarts of the football team nor the stars of the baseball team. Their

CLASS WILL

(By Frank Jakubiec)

Friends, members of the faculty and avaricious underclassmen:

As Attorney for the outstanding class of '46 it is my honor and privilege to read their last will and testament.

We, the class of 1946, being of exceptionally sound and brilliant mind, do hereby publish and make known our last will and testaments, declaring null and void all previous wills, testaments, and instruments, bequeathing the property here-in-after described to its stated receivers.

ITEM—To the school we leave our warm hearts, our unfeigned gratitude, and memories of four years well spent.

ITEM—To Mr. Tatoian, thanks for steering us on the right path and may the faculty strive hard to produce such a class of high merits as ours.

ITEM—To all you unfortunate underclassmen, we leave the names are still fresh in your memory. Nor shall we enumerate the members of the Junior class who have played a prominent part in the social activities of the school, including the Senior Prom. We do feel constrained, however, to note that the members of the Junior class are at least capable of driving a vehicle on the road, and not through such obstacles as a door.

You suggested that we Juniors prepare for our Senior year by reciting daily the saying, "I will try to be like the Seniors of 1946." Did you mean that we should come to school three minutes after the late bell has rung? Or that we should go dressed without neckties? Or that we appear at formal activities dressed in sweaters and rolled up shirt sleeves? Perish the thought; for though we have been at Enfield for three years we still have not arrived at that stage of sophistication where we consider it fashionable to appear in careless, wilfully careless, attire.

Enough of this verbiage. This is the night of your crowning glory, and never let it be said that we would deprive you of your just due. Let us, rather, point out to you that we, the underclassmen, have been aware of your achievements. We fully appreciate the sterling qualities of your character displayed by your class. We recognize the Oratical honor that a member of your class brought to Enfield. We appreciate the Seniors who made up the cast of the school play, the minstrel, and the basketball team. We saw their leadership and we feel rightfully proud of them.

And now, knowing that you will continue to display that same initiative in your new endeavors, we say Good Luck and God Speed to the Class of 1946.

school, fond memories of daily basketball games in Room 26, the bewitching odor of ageing eggs emanating from Room 25, and football games in the lower corridors.

ITEM—The following bequeaths are made in good faith, hoping that they will be received in the same spirit.

1. Richard Vining leaves all his outstanding athletic ability to Joe Cimino.

2. Dot Bridge leaves her poetic ability, oratorical accomplishments and her dignified manner to Joyce Dineen.

3. Wanda Mastalisz leaves her "perfect personality" to June Provencher.

4. James Jackson leaves his secret perpetual motion machine to his brother and may he, in his stay at Enfield, continue the experiments.

5. Jack Gorman leaves his handsome features to Francis Robinson.

6. Bernard Santanella leaves his neckties (?) to John Label who already has us wearing sun glasses.

7. Jean Humphries bequeaths her bewitching voice to Irene Kaczynski.

8. Robert Rossi leaves his drawing crayon to James Pumiglio who has worn all his down to the stub.

9. Virginia Green leaves her auburn hair to Marie O'Brien.

10. Richard Shields bequeaths his ability to get his homework in on time to William Stimson, and may he be as lenient with his as Dick was with his.

11. To Henry Zybura, Lincoln Fuge leaves his jokes.

12. To next years physics class James Jackson and Frank Jakubiec leave what remains of an electric motor they started to build in '45.

13. Lorraine Bailargeon leaves her ability to change colors at a seconds notice to Marilyn Creelman and may she have as rich as a red as Lorraine has.

14. Marie Binninkade leaves her acting talents to Marilyn Evans.

15. Ruth Lynch leaves her attractiveness to Pat White.

16. Jean Cygan gives Westfield back to Mayor Topnotch.

17. Eleanor MacGovern bequeaths her scholastic zeal to Mary Gorman who will have to work hard to equal Eleanor's average.

18. "Bookie" Furey leaves her reserved manner and fastidiousness to Jean Fields.

19. "Shorty" Mailloux leaves his 6 ft., 4 in. to Pete Bridge.

20. To the school records, the class of '46 leaves many fine pages of accomplishments in sports, scholastic ability, numerous other school activities, and a mountain of excuses I am sure will never be equaled.

21. To the "I make them go boy," Mr. McLaren, we leave the Boilers.

22. To Mr. Lyon's next year's class we leave you assignments galore, Happy "homework."

23. To next year's basketball team we leave a victory over "Suffield." Try and beat it.

24. To Mr. Nigro we leave a stop watch that he used trying to time J. Richards, L. Fuge, F. Jakubiec, R. Cummings, D. Vining coming downstairs.

25. Sammy Russotto, the Crooner, gives his deep voice back to the fog horn.

26. To the Juniors we leave all the gum deposited under chairs, to the Sophomores what they find under desks, and to the Freshmen all they find on walks.

27. And now, we the graduating class of '46 leave.

Whereof in witness I have hereunto set my hand and seal in this city of Thompsonville, Connecticut, on this twentieth day of June in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-six.

Signed: FRANK JAKUBIEC, Attorney
